DETAILED ACTION

Claim Rejections - 35 USC § 112

1. The following is a quotation of the second paragraph of 35 U.S.C. 112:

The specification shall conclude with one or more claims particularly pointing out and distinctly claiming the subject matter which the applicant regards as his invention.

1. Claims 1-17 are rejected under 35 U.S.C. 112, second paragraph, as being indefinite for failing to particularly point out and distinctly claim the subject matter which applicant regards as the invention.
2. Where applicant acts as his or her own lexicographer to specifically define a term of a claim contrary to its ordinary meaning, the written description must clearly redefine the claim term and set forth the uncommon definition so as to put one reasonably skilled in the art on notice that the applicant intended to so redefine that claim term. Process Control Corp. v. HydReclaim Corp., 190 F.3d 1350, 1357, 52 USPQ2d 1029, 1033 (Fed. Cir. 1999). The term "loader" in claims 1, 5, 11 and 16 is used by the claim to mean "follower". The term is indefinite because the specification does not clearly redefine the term.
3. Claims 1, 5, 11 and 16 require a spring "adapted to receive" either a plurality of cartridges or bullets. It is not known how or in what manner the spring can receive said cartridges or bullets since the spring is connected to a loader (follower) which in turn supports the bullets.
4. Claims 1, 5, 11 and 16 require a spring "being biased against" bullets or cartridges. It is not known how or in what manner the spring can be biased against said bullets or said cartridges since the spring is connected to a loader (follower) which in turn is biased against the bullets or projectiles.

5. Claim 2 recites a bent section adapted "to be received in a recess in said base." It is not clear whether or not the base has a recess and whether the bent section is actually received in it.

6. Claim 11 recites, a housing being adapted to receive a spring in a recess in said base, "said spring being adapted to receive a cartridge and being biased against said cartridge." However, the claim merely seems to suggest the presence of a spring and does not make the spring a positively recited requirement. Claims 12-15 merely describe details of a spring that is never positively recited.

Claim Rejections - 35 USC § 102

7. The following is a quotation of the appropriate paragraphs of 35 U.S.C. 102 that form the basis for the rejections under this section made in this Office action:

A person shall be entitled to a patent unless –

(b) the invention was patented or described in a printed publication in this or a foreign country or in public use or on sale in this country, more than one year prior to the date of application for patent in the United States.

8. Claims 1-17 are rejected under 35 U.S.C. 102(b) as being anticipated by US 4862618 issued to Szabo. As the claims can best be understood in view of the objections/rejections above, Szabo discloses a magazine for a firearm comprising a housing 5 having front, rear and side walls and a base as shown clearly in Figures 8-10. Szabo further discloses an impeller (loader) 87 as well as a spring 89. Spring 89 is constructed of a plurality of coils of progressively decreasing size so as to allow for nesting of the spring coils (col. 5, ll. 31-40). The lower portion of spring 89 is a coil (or bent section). The coils are U-shaped and have various lengths as discussed above.
